

Hey 🖐️

I'm Cedric Amaya

WHAT AM I PASSIONATE ABOUT

Building projects that require multidisciplinary skill sets which solve complex issues, making the lives of others easier.

WHO AM I

By day, I am a software developer specializing in full-stack web development. By night, I like to put my creativity and entrepreneurial spirit to use and work on side projects.

Other tidbits about myself:

- spent my childhood in foster care
- rescued by my now two loving gay dads
- failed Political Science major and ROTC candidate
- NFL and Formula 1 fan

WHERE I EXCEL

In brief, I'm a hard worker and am constantly working towards honing my craft.

STRENGTHS

- determined—I don't shy away when faced with challenges
- resourceful—weapon of choice is Google and I'm highly effective with it
- creative—I possess an eye for design

WHERE I CAN IMPROVE

As someone who is naturally shy, my top priority is always making sure I communicate clearly and effectively.

WEAKNESSES

- shyness—takes a while to “come out of my shell”
- detail-oriented—can sometimes spend too much time focusing on the minute details
- speaking up—great at finding solutions but when I can’t, I can struggle to ask for help

WHAT DO I VALUE

AUTONOMY

I'm confident in my skill set and know I can get the job done when given the opportunity.

GROWTH

I'm always looking to better myself and improve both personally and professionally.

OPENNESS

True believer in not withholding the truth, regardless of the circumstances.

WHAT ARE MY GOALS & AMBITIONS

I am always looking to improve myself and the easiest way to do so is by accomplishing goals. Below are just some of the goals and ambitions I have set for myself:

- land my first SWE role; be the best engineer I can
- learn how to build scalable systems
- bootstrap a side project into a profitable business
